With the previous registration, the participant submits a self-willed and binding registration for an event of his/her choosing by the PLAN B event company GmbH and asserts, without requiring further proof by the event organizer, possession of the skills and experiences that are mentioned and required by all participants under heading 1 of the rules. Compensation claims brought forward by the participant against the event organizer, for whatever legal reason, are excluded. Each participant agrees to waive all legal claims against the organizer or promoter, as well as against helpers or agents. This does not apply, if the organizer, legal representatives or agents have acted with intent or with gross negligence in the execution of their duties, or if the organizer is duly liable due to accountable damages resulting from harm to life, body or health of a person or the breach of constitutive contractual obligations. The participant consents to be subjected to tests and inspections concerning his/her person and personal equipment as ordered by the race jury. The participant knows, understands, and fully acknowledges the conditions of participation as well as the rules and regulations. The participant expressly confirms that he or she has fully read, understood and accepts the rules, guidelines, and conditions detailed within this document. The participant agrees to the publication of photographic and other audiovisual materials as well as the public ranking of each runner's name obtained during the event. With the release of an e-mail address, the participant deliberately allows PLAN B event company GmbH to use this e-mail address to send additional event information. The participant certifies with his/her signature that the participation in this event will be at own risk and that, in case of an accident or injury, adequate insurance coverage (valid in foreign countries as well) exists. Furthermore, by partaking in the event the participant solemnly affirms to be unaware of any health concerns that would undermine his/her participation in the race and that his/her physical and mental level of performance meets the requirements that such an alpine endurance race poses. The organizer will not be liable for health risks of a participant that are in any way connected with taking part in this event. The participant has to take care of his/her own equipment according to the regulations. The organizer will not be liable for lost valuables, clothing or equipment during the race or drop bag transportation. The organizer disclaims all liability for damages that may arise because a participant's appearance is prevented by legal regulations and/or governmental orders. Costs for third party services, e.g. rescue services, have to be fully borne by the participant. The organizer reserves the right to demand any of these costs from the participant. It is strongly recommended to have a private foreign health insurance, which includes helicopter use and patient transport back home. With my signature, I agree with all preceding points. I authorize the payee to collect payments from my account through direct debit. At the same time, I instruct my credit institution to pay the direct debits drawn on my account by the payee. I agree that the pre-registration period will be shortened (COR1). As part of your rights, you are entitled to a refund from your bank under the terms and conditions of your agreement with your bank. A refund must be claimed within 8 weeks starting from the date on which your account was debited.
